BrowseIt is an intuitive software solution that comes in handy to those who want to browse two websites at the same time using the split mode, listen to text being read by a built-in voice and preview HTML code. Straightforward web browser to surf the Internet Despite the outdated interface, the practicability and numerous offered features, might make some users overlook this little issue. The app comes with a predefined homepage, which can be changed from the options, along with the websites that are opened in the split mode. Visit multiple links simultaneously and in incognito mode BrowseIt comes with the standard navigational buttons, such as reload, back, next, stop and homepage. It loads almost all types of sites, which means you can listen to music, read the news or chat with your friends with ease. From the "Window Manager" tab, you have the choices to open another standard or incognito window, and activate the split panel mode. This method lets you browse two different pages at the same time. Preview HTML code and delete the history The app also comes with a history manager, where you can view the most recently visited sites and clear those you don't need anymore. The HTML editor gives you the option to copy and paste HTML code from an external source and view it in a new window. Use the offered text-to-speech feature to read your text You can check the current date with the help of the built-in calendar, use the provided reader to listen to your text, and tweet with your friends and favorite celebrities using the Twitter function.
