WCD Drink Alarm Crack + Product Key

WCD Drink Alarm is the application that tracks the amount of water you need to drink per day, depending on your weight and planned exercising. WCD Drink Alarm asks you to input your weight in both imperial and metric, then you can choose the number of hours you want the application to track you. You can choose from 8 hours up to 120 minutes. After you have selected how long you want the application to track you for, you have to select whether or not you are going to exercise during that time. If you select that you will be exercising, you then have to select the amount of time you plan to exercise. WCD Drink Alarm is not very specific here and could be customized to a greater degree, but it provides basic ranges. After you have selected your options, WCD Drink Alarm is ready to begin. The application opens up a monitor window that displays the amount of water you are drinking as well as how many have been consumed. Every time you are reminded to drink a glass of water, the application plays a customizable alarm. A button can be pressed every time you have a drink, which changes the counters. Information can also be displayed in a graph form.
