Take part in a free PGP conference call on Friday, September 9, at 12:00 PM Eastern Time (9:00 AM Pacific Time). Our speaker will be Richard Alan Miller from Johns Hopkins University's Center for Cryptologic History. You can follow this link to register. KEYMACRO - All About Encryption: Encryption is a method of using a string of data known as an "encryption key" to "encrypt" data, so that only those who know the key can read the data. Most encryption programs use a specific type of key known as a "symmetric key," meaning that only those who know the key can decrypt the data. While the technology itself has been around for quite some time, modern encryption techniques are now very powerful and highly secure. KeyLocker - Split Your Data Into Three Shares: KeyLocker's file-sharing functionality is a great way to protect sensitive or confidential files. The software allows you to split the files you want to protect into three shares. Anyone who gains access to one of the shares has no way to access the other two. KeePass - Create Secure Notes: Keeping a secure log of passwords, even on a computer, can be a difficult task. This is why we suggest that you use KeePass, a cross-platform password manager and database. With this handy tool you can create secure notes and lists of passwords. Cryptocat - Free Encryption: Cryptocat is a free secure messaging app. There are no logins or passwords to remember - every conversation is encrypted, as are its attachments, contacts, and even the medium the conversation took place over. POWERSHIFT - 128-bit Encryption: POWERSHIFT provides encryption services for free and is powered by a decentralized network of more than 1,400 nodes across the globe. It utilizes one of the strongest and most versatile encryption algorithms, the Blowfish algorithm, which is named after the eighteenth century cryptologist - Blofeld. SpiderOak - Yours: SpiderOak's 'Your' feature enables you to encrypt files in the cloud and take them with you. It's perfect for people who don't want to leave sensitive files in the cloud. ~~~~~ Please watch: "The Best Cryptocurrency Apps for Android" --- 1d6a3396d6
