discontinued as a native MacOS app. With the advent of macOS Catalina, in September 2019, Autodesk released a new version of Autodesk CAD titled Autodesk AutoCAD Architecture, Autodesk AutoCAD Electrical, Autodesk AutoCAD Civil 3D, Autodesk AutoCAD Land Surveyor, Autodesk AutoCAD Landscape and Autodesk AutoCAD Plant 3D for macOS. It is based on the Autodesk 3D Warehouse platform and requires that an Autodesk subscription be purchased in order to use the apps. Advanced technical features and customizations AutoCAD introduced advanced technical features, such as trackpad scrolling in 2D and 3D, snapping, measurement units, and data zooming. Some of these features were adopted in other products. While still requiring the use of the mouse, its predecessor, AutoCAD R14, introduced AutoCAD key-based functions (such as 5, 10, 50, and 100%) with the addition of Autodesk Pre-Flexor. The Pre-Flexor allows functions such as viewing and copying AutoCAD's native data and drawing information through an interface other than AutoCAD's standard command-line interface (CLI). Interoperability Autodesk releases compatible APIs, drivers, and toolkits for each of the applications that it produces. These are free and open-source software. Some examples of other software that share these compatibility interfaces include: QGIS, PRO/EPM and others. As a vector product, AutoCAD can import and export other vector-based products, such as DWG, DXF, and DWF. Furthermore, Autodesk launched a free download of the Autodesk Vectorworks plug-in for Autodesk AutoCAD in August 2011, which includes an import function to import and save VectorWorks DWF files to AutoCAD. Additional AutoCAD add-ons have been released, which allow it to import and export the following formats: AutoCAD 3DS, AutoCAD 360, AutoCAD DWG 2003, AutoCAD DWG 2004, AutoCAD DWG 2005, AutoCAD DWG 5b5f913d15

However, natural fuels have many limitations, in particular as a result of their limited availability and their high cost. Bhutan has one of the fastest growing economies in the world and is the first country to make a national commitment to decrease its dependence on fossil fuels. The country has been a pioneer in reducing its dependence on hydrocarbon fuels by promoting the use of renewable energy sources such as solar, geothermal, biomass, wind and biogas. Bhutan has taken several steps to cut down on its dependence on hydrocarbon fuels and other fossil fuels, which include producing its own electricity, producing biofuels and supplying its own electricity to schools. Here are some facts about Bhutan: Bhutan: Facts 1. Bhutan is the most fuel efficient country in the world. 2. It has produced more energy than it consumes since 2006. 3. The country has 100 per cent renewable energy sources in its power generation system. 4. Bhutan is the first country in Asia to establish an International Solar Alliance, which promotes the use of solar energy in the region. 5. The country has a national policy of zero-emission. 6.
