Specifically for postgraduate physiotherapy students, many have expressed that they would not be able to find the time to keep up with the demands of the new and evolving literature. Faculty often highlight that students have a tendency to rely on textbooks and other existing knowledge for their practice. The results reveal that EBP is not necessarily applicable to the field of postgraduate physiotherapy practice or teaching. It seems that the current pressures that PGs face in their practice impede them from adopting EBP in their professional work. In terms of time constraints, postgraduate physiotherapy students commonly report that they have little time for research or investigation. They find that the availability of support and resources to help them access and use EBP resources is not readily available, and it is beyond their control to access these resources. This is consistent with previous studies.[@ref36] The level of training for postgraduate physiotherapy students in EBP was judged as low, with emphasis 79a2804d6b
